

Price Changes for the Japan Rail Pass

April 9, 2026
JR Group

The Japan Rail Pass is a convenient pass that allows visiting tourists to Japan to travel by train throughout the country. It is sold by the JR Group through overseas JR designated sales offices, agencies and via the online purchasing service on its dedicated website (JAPAN RAIL PASS Reservation).

Since the last price changes of the Japan Rail Pass on October 1, 2023, some JR companies adjusted their ticket prices. As a result, we have decided to revise the Japan Rail Pass prices accordingly. Also, in order to encourage the use of our online purchasing service, which allows customers to purchase the Japan Rail Pass and reserve seats independently without going through the station ticket counter, prices via the online purchasing service will remain unchanged for a limited time*.

We invite you to take advantage of our convenient and cost-effective online purchasing service.

* We will announce the end of this price-freeze period for our online purchasing service as soon as it is decided.

“Children” are defined as those aged 6 to 11 at the time of use (elementary school students aged 12 or older are considered “adults”). However, for purchase made through our online purchasing service or through an overseas agency, if the child is 11 years old on the payment date of the online purchase or on the issued date of the Exchange Order from the agency, the child pass is still valid for use even if the child is 12 years old at the time of use.

2. Effective Date of the Price Changes

For purchases made on or after October 1, 2026 * The local time at the location of the purchase

3. Other

There are no changes to the procedures for purchasing or using the pass.
